RIPE BANANAS CALIFORNIA IN PRESENT

No need to go to the tropics to pick ripe bananas off the trees. Several bananas picked by a member of the News staff at the residence of Mrs. Guyer, 913 North Oxford Street, Los Angeles, have been exciting the curiosity of visitors to the News office this week.

While banana trees are quite common in Southern California, it is most unusual for the trees to produce the fruit which was made famous by a popular song. The bananas on exhibition are not as succulent as bananas shipped from the tropics, having a coarse fibre, but they taste like bananas, are shaped and colored like bananas and really are as good as some of the bananas one often pays a good sum for in this country of sunshine and roses.

Diet Expert To Promote Citrus Fruit

The California Fruit Growers' Exchange announces the addition to its staff of Miss Ruth Bowden, a graduate dietitian and nutrition worker, who has had several years experience in research and clinical work as well as in the organization and direction of child health and nutritional programs in public schools. Miss Bowden will head the Dietetic Research Department.

A great part of this new work will consist of bringing before dietitians, nurses, child welfare organizations, home demonstration groups and other gatherings, up-to-the-minute information on the healthfulness and importance of fruit and vegetables in the diet. Miss Bowden's services will be available to such organizations in various parts of the country throughout the year.

One piece of research in which much work has been done over a period of years relates to the value of fruits with regard to the common ailment "acidosis." Citrus fruits have been found to rank high as preventatives and correc-tives of this prevalent condition, which fact is now being featured in Sunkist advertising.

New Leader To Conduct Orchestra

The fifth season of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra opens at the Philharmonic Auditorium Thursday evening, October 27, and Friday afternoon, October 28, under the leadership of George Schnoevoigt. The Philharmonic orchestra, under the direction of the late Walter Henry Rothwell, became one of the first symphonic organizations of America, and under the distinguished artistry of Schnoevoigt its progress should be uninterrupted.

Among the eminent soloists to appear at the symphony concerts are Frances Berkova and Alfred Megerlin, violinists; Harold Bauer and Benno Moisevitch, pianists; Sophie Braslau, Myra Morti-mer and Florence Austral, vocalists. The Beethoven Ninth Symphony will be given during the season, with a chorus of some 300 voices. The chorus will be under the direction of Squire Coop, head of the music department of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Fourteen Sunday afternoon popular concerts will also be given at the Philharmonic Auditorium during the season, at which soloists of note will appear.

3 out of every 4 citrus growers market through the Exchange

THREE-FOURTHS of all the lemon and grapefruit growers in California market their crops through the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

Their returns over a period of years have convinced them of the soundness of co-operative marketing as carried on for 34 years by this non-profit, co-operative growers' organization.

Over 11,000 grower-members, representing about 75 per cent of this great industry, are members of this organization. They send this friendly message to other growers who desire to market their fruit more profitably:—

"Be one of us for better crop returns"

We, 11,000 growers, are the Exchange. Acting collectively we are enabled to—

- promote increased consumption of citrus fruits through consistent consumer and trade advertising.
- market 75 per cent of the California citrus crop in a systematic, orderly way.
- maintain an aggressive, international sales organization.
- distribute approximately 20,000,000 boxes of fruit at a lower cost (ranging from 2 to 3 per cent) than by any other known method.
- average higher net returns than the minority of growers who still sell through other channels.

No other fresh fruit industry in the world has comparable sales and advertising facilities; and, without them, none is able to give comparable returns.

Non-Member Growers should note these facts:

First—The California Fruit Growers Exchange most outstanding success in the history of grower-ing, due to the ability of their organization to promote results at minimum costs.

Second—Grower-members believe in the principles and methods they have themselves laid proved over the 34 years' existence of their Third—They further believe that all growers accordingly as a larger share of the California crop is marketed through the Exchange. Because increased use facilities of the Exchange means more co-ordinated marketing the California crop and an ever lower cost box.

Fourth—The success of the Exchange is measured net returns to grower-members. More than 11,000 growers—three-fourths of the California total—now through the Exchange—overwhelming proof that change method has been found the most profitable

Your neighbor, who is an Exchange member, value of its services. Talk to him; talk to the ers Exchange is a non-profit organization of 11,000 Califoring about 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and ket for California oranges,

Interesting News Notes from Sierra Madre Canyon

Work on the county flood control dam, located beyond the buildings of the city water department at the upper end of Woodland Drive, has begun. On Saturday traffic was temporarily suspended while the steam shovel made its way up Woodland Drive to the head of the canyon. Trees and telephone wires which interfered with its progress required constant attention.

A crew of about fifteen men are now engaged in constructing a road at the upper end of Woodland Drive from the point where it was completely washed away during the flood of April, 1926, to the site of the dam. This road is made necessary to permit the hauling of the vast amount of material that will be required for the project. Claude Fisher, the contractor engaged in the construction, is building the dam in accordance with plans prepared by S. M. Fisher, designing engineer, and E. A. Eaton, chief engineer of the county flood control commission.

At the regular meeting of the Canyon Improvement Association held in the canyon club house on Tuesday evening, J. R. Thompson was re-elected president and E. A. Anderson was re-elected vice president of the organization. Stephen Petzel was chosen to act as secretary and treasurer. The officers will hold office for the term of one year. The organization plans a Halloween party at which time the new officers will be inducted into office.

A discussion of roads, which members pointed out were practically impassable at certain points, resulted in a formal request to the city council that some effort be made by the city to remedy this condition. It was suggested that some of the material excavated at the dam site might be used in repaving the roads. A. N. Carter announced to the organization that he was completing a 30-foot road through his property extending from Canyon and Alegria Streets to W. D. Richards' property in the canyon. The organization then went on as being in favor of continuing this with to the intersection of Sturtevant Road and members agreed that the present dangerous blind corner as it exists at this point should be removed.

Certain members of the Association expressed apprehension that the flood control commission did not intend improving that portion of the stream channel lying between the former swimming pool and the dam. It was pointed out that the work now under way comprising the channel from the pool to Grand View Avenue and the dam project had been awarded separately and that no award for work on the channel lying in the canyon proper had been made. John P. Morris volunteered to call on the commission to obtain definite information regarding this portion of the work.

On Sunday T. M. Clark, father of Mrs. Lulu Belle Taylor, celebrated his eighty-fourth birthday at his home, "Green Bells," on Santa Circle Drive. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. William Scott, Mr. and Mrs. M. Taylor, Miss Naomi Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Leo C. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Cotta, P. J. Vigil, of Los Angeles; C. J. Holtz, of San Francisco, Mrs.

Ida C. Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hamilton, Fred Benjamin of Anaheim, Mr. and Mrs. William Tell Burkhardt and Alfred Foulds.

Miss Katherine Burton motored to Long Beach on Sunday for a visit with her grandmother, Mrs. Frances H. Burton, who has been spending some time in that city. Mrs. Burton expects to return to her canyon home, "Linger Long," on Saturday.

"Mrs. J. F. Key is enjoying a visit from her father, William B. Smitten of Punxsutawney, Pa. Mr. Smitten in company with W. W. Wyant left their home September 15th and after driving 3,000 miles, visiting many points of interest on the way, among them the Grand Canyon, arrived in Sierra Madre on October 1st. They report the roads in good condition and did not encounter any rain on the way. Mr. Smitten expects to remain in the canyon during the winter.

E. O. Moody left on Tuesday for Bakersfield where he is building a house on the ranch of his cousin, Mr. Wildman. Mr. Moody will be away for a couple of months, returning home only on week-ends.

Mrs. L. S. High entertained two tables at bridge on Tuesday evening at her home, 408 Alta Vista Drive. After the games a light collation was served by the hostess. The guests were Mmes. Jas. Heasley, W. B. Corum, W. J. Stevenson, A. J. Dewey, C. L. Hoover, F. E. Cox and L. E. Wheeler.

On Friday evening Miss Laura E. Cadmus and Miss Katherine Burton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Croxson at their home in Los Angeles. In the evening Miss Cadmus, Miss Burton and Miss Lilah Croxson drove to Shrine Auditorium to hear Frances Peralta and Giovanni Martinelli in Manon Lescaut.

Club Season Opened With Fine Session

The opening luncheon and business meeting of the Sierra Madre Woman's Club was held on Wednesday, "Columbus Day." It furnished a delicious repast and an inspiring beginning for the new club year.

Decorations were peculiarly appropriate, with three sailing vessels, the Santa Maria, the Pinta and the Niño, on the tables. In the center of the auditorium was a gorgeous table with flowers and other appointments all in gold and white. As the club president, Mrs. Fletcher White, called the company to their places at the luncheon tables, the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march were heard. Then appeared the bridal party of fifty golden years, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dickson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Thayer, Rev. and Mrs. A. O. Pritchard and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Conard, who took their places at the center table.

No sooner had Mrs. White opened the meeting after the luncheon than she was presented with three beautiful baskets of flowers and several gifts with wishes and forecasts of a splendid year. One of them bore a card with this greeting:

"Sierra Madre Woman's Club, all not a few, Wish you success, peace and happiness, too, And promise to help in all that you do For your name is White and your color true blue."

Flowers and a gift from the club were also presented to Mr. and Mrs. Dickson. Mrs. W. E. Pratt gave a reading appropriate to the occasion.

The luncheon speaker of the day was Mrs. Daniel Hammack, district chairman of literature, spoke in charming vein, giving a list of books appearing during the past six months which she recommended for reading. The list included: Biography: The Road to the Temple (Glaspeil); Trader Horn (Horn); Brother Saul (Byrne); Romantic Lady (Bor-nette); Travel: The Glorious Adventure (Haliburton); Science: The Next Age of Man (Wiggam); International Relations: The Christ of the Indian Road (Jones); Inspirational: What Can a Man Believe (Barton); Fiction: The Grandmothers (Westcott); Jalna (de la Roche); Lost Ecstasy (Rhinehart); The Immortal Marriage (Atherton).

Dr. Alfred Cookman of Polytechnic high school, Los Angeles, was the afternoon speaker, his topic being "The Romance and Courtship of Birds." He dwelt especially on the peculiar habits and natures of certain birds and their great usefulness which deserves protection and preservation. Dr. Cookman's amazing command of facts and figures and tales of interesting experiments and research commanded the interest and admiration of all his hearers, including about twenty school children who were present.

Mrs. White announced the first meeting of the Literature section on Wednesday, October 26th, at 10:30 a. m. Section members must pay their section fee and obtain cards in order to attend this meeting. Mrs. Valley must be paid in advance, therefore those wishing to take advantage of this splendid opportunity of hearing her course of lessons are urged to pay their dues at once. Mrs. E. E. Bacon is chairman of the section, Miss Virginia Jones is secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. White announced also that a class in physical culture exercises for women was to be organized by Mrs. Lillian Payne who has been conducting a dancing class in the club house for the past six months. All who would be interested in such a class are asked to notify Mrs. White.

Announcement is made by the committee in charge of a Halloween masked ball to be given Oct. 29 at the club house. The details of the arrangements will be published in next week's paper. Programs are to be printed and tickets are to be placed on sale in a few days.

There will be an all-day meeting of the Woman's Guild at the Parish House of the Church of the Ascension today, beginning at 10 o'clock. Luncheon at 1 o'clock. Hostesses Mmes. Welscher and Appleby.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sturmthal were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor C. Hill on South Baldwin Avenue Monday evening.

Miss Jessie Ward returned home Thursday from Santa Barbara where she had been spending a few days visiting Mrs. Olivia Beers, who is ill. Mrs. Beers was formerly of Sierra Madre.

AN INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY

Sunday, October 23rd, is to be observed as International Day at the First Congregational Church. Mrs. W. W. Ranney, one of the national secretaries of the Board of Missions, will speak in the morning at 11 o'clock. In the evening there will be a stirring address on "The World Outlook" by Dr. Brewer Eddy of Boston. Dr. Eddy is a speaker of great power and the church is very fortunate to secure him, as he is to be on the coast but a few weeks. The first master of the lodge is only one of many interesting features of his career in fraternal circles.

Ninety-first Division to Stage Show

Spectators watching a three ringed circus think their eyes are kept fairly busy but such a performance is slow and tame in comparison with the carnival and frolic which the Southern California Sector of the Ninety-first Division Association is going to stage on November 5 for the benefit of disabled veterans, according to Dick Ferris, director general of the show.

"We're going to have everything," said Ferris. "There will be a rodeo with Tom Mix, Roy Stewart and other cowboys from the pictures doing their stuff, movie stars making personal appearances, sideshows, games, peanuts and popcorn, confetti, dancing in the Ambassador hotel auditorium where the carnival will be held, swimming and diving in the Ambassador pool—everything."

Plans for the carnival were given a vote of approval at the annual reunion of the members of the Ninety-first Division of Southern California held in Los Angeles last Saturday at Patriotic Hall.

Five hundred former members of the division which was the only combat division from the Pacific coast in the World war, heard Ferris and Guernsey P. Frazer, chairman of the board of governors of the Sector and of the general committee for the frolic, tell of the work to be done among disabled veterans with the funds derived from the benefit.

IT IS UP TO EACH OF US

WHEN we begin to think we are too old to learn we are just kidding ourselves. We may act as if we are too old to learn. And we may convince other people that we are too old to learn. But there really isn't any need for trying to prove we are candidates for the gallery of antiques. The real truth is that we are, too lazy or too hide-bound to learn.

Adult education has become a movement of tremendous import in the last few years. Few people have yet realized its possibilities. Dr. Edwin Lee Thorndike has been carrying on extensive experiments with various groups from grade school pupils to persons of advanced age to ascertain their relative ability to learn. It was found that adults are more facile than children in mastering subjects that require larger reasoning processes. Mathematics, physical sciences and written languages are among the branches where the youngsters fall behind their elders. About the only field in which the young pupils excelled was in acquiring the spoken languages.

With evening classes in our own high school and numerous university extension classes within easy reach the problem is not so much the ability to learn as the willingness to "sacrifice" the time. Something like three million adults are said to be enrolled annually for school work in this country in addition to those who are completing their early school courses without interruption. The number is growing rapidly.

Eastern industrial practice tends increasingly to refuse employment to men over thirty. Some day they will realize that there is no such sin as being too old to learn. The real sin is in not wanting to learn.

WELCOME THE DOTTED LINE

THE need for sidewalks on Central Avenue has been on the program of things we expect to do for a long time. It was proposed at the same time the sidewalk of Baldwin Avenue was completed. Agitation has been started and died out any number of times. Not so very long ago a petition was started and made some headway, but has apparently been put aside in the rush of other things.

Now there appears to be urgent and specific reason for pushing the project to completion. With substantial progress being made for the Central Avenue Mattoon Act opening, the least that Sierra Madre can do is to see that the portion of Central Avenue within her limits is in ship shape. And even if there should be lengthy delay in the extension work, there is abundant reason for making our main east and west street look less like a country lane. Property owners ought to sign the petition without hesitation so Sierra Madre can show a determination to do her part.

THE RIGHT PRESCRIPTION (Hemet News)

"DOC" Abbey of Hemet is a firm believer in trading at home. Recently he received six pairs of silk socks from an eastern house. With the socks came a letter reading something like this: "Dear Sir: We are taking the liberty of sending six pairs of exceptionally good hose. Because these hose have the approval of thousands of discriminating dressers, we know you'll like them. Please send us $4, etc."

And here is Abbey's reply: "I am taking the liberty of sending you $4 worth of extra fine pills. These pills have helped thousands and I am sure you will appreciate my thoughtfulness in sending them. Please accept the pills in payment for the hose sent under date of August 21."

It was a fortunate thing that the Los Angeles police force declared war on thugs and bandits several weeks ago. If they hadn't, it is hard to imagine what would be happening in the city of the angels.

The reason the Pirates lost was because the Yanks didn't choose to let them run (the bases) in 1927.

A frenzied sports writer on a Los Angeles paper says that Morley Drury is greater than Kaer. Well, after seeing Mister Drury punt for an average of 15 yards, gain an average of about a yard and a half (when the interference was good) and run his team like a first-year high schooler, one is forced to the conclusion that the aforesaid frenzied individual owes Mister Drury a lot of money—or belongs to Mister Drury's college "frat." Out of about forty men on the field last Saturday Mister Drury was the most highly touted and showed the least football ability of any of 'em. The one outstanding feature of Mister Drury's football career is that he has more people offering apologies for him than any other athlete that ever lived, including Jack Dempsey.

The Los Angeles police pistol team is home from a national contest in which they won first place. All right, boys, do your stuff—the field for your activities is unlimited, right in your own home town.

Buena Vista Estates

Señor Avocado Says,

"The man with five acres of four year old Avocados is a wealthy man!"

Do you know that AVOCADOS net the highest return of any fruits being grown today, and that Buena Vista Estates is known as the natural home of the avocado?

Do you know that Buena Vista Estates residents have found that they can make comfortable incomes from their land while waiting for their avocado trees to come into full bearing by growing intercrops of winter vegetables, bulbs and berries?

Through our recently made connection with the Frank Meline Company of Los Angeles, we are able to invite you to be our guests on a trip to the Vista Irrigation District in northern San Diego county, to see Buena Vista Estates. We will take interested persons to the property in private enclosed automobiles—a delightful three-hour drive. The property is 110 miles south of Los Angeles and eight miles inland.

We believe that a few acres of avocados planted on this land will make you independent within a few years. The equable climate, with warm sea breezes and freedom from winter temperatures, the abundant supply of Lake Hemshaw water in steel high-pressure pipes, and the medium texture soil, combine to produce practically ideal avocado growing conditions. Big Parade Coming For Three Days

Announcement that Billy Swanson, young Los Angeles theatrical man, has taken over the Wistaria Theatre, was made this week. W. J. Meyers, who has operated the house the past two years, has not announced his future plans but will remain in Sierra Madre. Mr. Swanson is planning some important changes at the theatre, but announces a continuance of the booking contract under which the house secures such splendid film programs. The best offerings of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Paramount and Universal are available along with their showing at the larger city houses.

On his first week's program Mr. Swanson has the big feature for which many people have awaited the local showing with keen interest, namely, "The Big Parade." This epic of the world war has broken all attendance records since its memorable opening late in 1925. It has been shown before packed houses in England and Canada as well as in America. It established John Gilbert and Renee Adoree among the stars and likewise put Tom O'Brien and Karl Dane among the kings of rolicking comedy. No other picture since "The Birth of a Nation" has played so strongly the whole gamut of emotion on the heartstrings of so many people. "The Big Parade" will be made a special feature for three days, beginning Thursday.

Two western features are booked for the Wistaria in Zane Grey's "Nevada" which opens tonight, and "Rose of the Golden West" which opens Sunday. In the latter Mary Astor and Gilbert Roland have fine roles in the romance of early California. The action takes place in the days of Spanish rule before the gold rush.

The other side of college life is well portrayed in "For the Love of Mike" which opens Tuesday night. Ben Lyon stars in this comedy drama. It tells of the transition of a gutter kid to the polished captain of the Yale crew, with a love interest running all the way through.

What's Doing At Theaters In Pasadena

THE STRAND

A "concentrated cast" is what Harry Millard, screen director, turned his cast in "On Ze Boulevard", the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which is now playing at the Strand theatre. He has four principal characters—but each one is a name of first magnitude in the roster of fame. Lew Cody, inimitable character comedian; Renee Adoree, heroine of "The Big Parade" and other successes; Dorothy Sebastian of "Sackcloth and Scarlet" and other big pictures and Roy D'Arcy, the famous crown prince of "The Merry Widow", completes the list. The last word in embarrassing moments is to have an ace of hearts found tucked under your sleeve just after you have taken in nearly every chip on the table in a big poker game. This delicate problem is enacted most convincingly by Adolphe Menjou, in "A Gentleman of Paris", the latest Paramount picture which comes to the Strand Sunday. Menjou's role is that of injured innocence.

The Raymond

Just what happens to young people who go to college in these so-called jazz days is well answered in "The Drop Kick," starring Richard Barthelmess in a splendid picture now playing at the Raymond theatre, Pasadena. "The Drop Kick" is a typical Dick Barthelmess vehicle, filled with dramatic thrills and much comedy and flavored with the excitement of a big football game, particularly timely at this season. And the football scenes were made in the Pasadena Rose Bowl, site of the famous east-west football games on New Year's day.

The Florence

From leading man and matinee idol to the devastating villain is the screen career of Wheeler Oakman, who plays the heavy role in "Out All Night" the Universal story comedy picture starring Reginald Denny which comes to the Florence theatre on Sunday as the feature attraction.

Chester Conklin, featured, heads Wyn's supporting company in "Rubber Heels", Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 19 and 20. Thelma Todd, Robert Andrews, Truly Shattock and John Harrington also enact important roles. Victor Heerman directed. J. Clarkson Miller prepared the screen play.

The Colorado

"What Price Glory," the merry war film at the Colorado theatre starting tomorrow, is a screen play without a villain. Another novel feature of it is that you can use your own discretion in picking the hero. Nobody will dispute that the fiery Charmaine, played by Dolores Del Rio, is a more than adequate heroine, and that Privates Kiper and Lipinski supply all the comedy necessary.

An economist makes the plaintive inquiry: "What will follow all this wave of buying automobiles on instalments?" What will follow, probably, is instalment buying of airplanes.—Detroit Free Press.

Business First

"Are you engaged to him?" asked Miss Cayenne.
"Yes," answered the prudent girl, "but I have requested time to verify reports on his title and fortune."
"That is not an engagement. That is an option."—Washington Star.

Further Cut In Auto Tax Is Predicted

Washington. — Motorists can look forward to the December session of congress for reduction of the remaining automobile taxes and establishment of more national parks and good roads, according to American Automobile association officials.

The last session was one of the best since the World War for motorists, five helpful steps for the motorists having been taken as follows:

1. The war excise tax on trucks, tires, parts and accessories was repealed, and the 5 per cent tax on passenger cars was cut to 3 per cent, saving more than $30-000,000 annually.

2. Appropriation of $165,000,000 made for the next two fiscal years to carry out dollar-for-dollar federal highway aid plan.

3. Accepted membership by the United States in the Permanent Association of International Road Congresses.

4. Granted to states, counties and municipalities the privilege of acquiring or using lands for recreational purposes when such lands are not needed by the federal government.

5. Established the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia, the Great Smoking Mountain National Park in North Carolina and Tennessee, and the Mammoth Cave National Park in Kentucky.

FREIGHT CAR SHORTAGE IS THING OF PAST

Saving the American people at least one and one-half billion dollars annually and affecting all business and industry, the improvement in railroad freight service is probably the most important change in the United States since the war, according to J. H. Dyer, general manager for Southern Pacific Company.

"Car shortages have been eliminated to such an extent," Dyer said, "that save for occasional sporadic instances, shippers are being furnished 100 percent of the cars they request, when and where they want them."

"Loaded freight cars are being moved from point of origin to destination in two-thirds of the time required six years ago and regularity and dependability of freight deliveries have been immeasurably increased."

SUGGESTIONS FOR KIDDIES' SCHOOL LUNCH

Here are some things you may not have tried in the school lunches: Sliced meat loaf, rolls hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish, moistened with salad dressing and seasoned; salad; cheese straws; stuffed eggs; tomatoes and whole fresh fruits; cut-up fruit; brown-sugar or maple sugar sandwiches, made with crackers or hot biscuit so as to melt the sugar; sausage tur-overs; stuffed prunes or dates or figs; cup custard; a small box of raisins; a cake of chocolate; little tarts, cookies or frosted cakes; sandwiches of two kinds of bread;
a bottle of orange or grape juice; lemon juice sweetened ready to make into lemonade at school.

See that sandwiches, cookies, slices of cake, fruit—in fact, everything that goes into the lunch box—are wrapped separately in waxed paper. This not only prevents crushing, but keeps them moister or crisper, as they happen to require. Provide paper napkins, to keep hands and clothing clean, and to spread on the desk under the lunch.

Finely chopped raw celery improves many dishes, such as creamed beef, fish, crabmeat, oysters, potatoes, cabbage or hard-boiled eggs. Try it in cream sauce for serving on croquettes; with creamed canned peas and lima beans, stewed tomatoes and other vegetables. Add just a few minutes before serving time.

SOUTHLAND TO REAP BENEFITS IN AD CAMPAIGN

Supplementing the magazine advertising campaign in which Los Angeles County is to be specifically mentioned nearly 100,000,000 times, the All-Year Club of Southern California has just announced a newspaper advertising campaign that will give the county mention an additional 78,363,168 times.

The newspaper advertising is for all the Southland. Each advertisement carries a coupon by which the person reading it can make inquiry for general information about Southern California or specific information about any of the seven counties which participate in the advertising pool. Los Angeles, by virtue of its participation, is mentioned in the coupon. This mention will result, it is confidently believed, in more than a score of thousand specific

Dairy Maids In Contest at County Fair

Many an old bossie throughout the Southland is wondering what it is all about now-a-days as the morning and evening milking rolls around on the farm, for every milk maid in the country is acquiring speed and technique for the first annual milk-maid contest at the Los Angeles County Fair, Pomona, Sept. 28 to October 2. The contest is open to school girls only who think they know their stuff. The winner will be awarded a silver trophy by the California Dairy Council and the fair management will pay her expenses on a trip to the Pacific Coast Dairy Show at Oakland, November 14-20, where she will represent Southern California in the Annual Pacific Coast Milk-Maids' contest.

The California Dairy Council is also sponsoring a complete dairy products show at the county fair. The county health department is installing a complete laboratory for testing dairy products of all descriptions. It will be the most complete dairy show aside from the annual Oakland show.

The dairy products will be judged by boys' judging teams from various high schools of the state teaching agricultural subjects. The boys will display their skill in judging dairy products, livestock and trees in competition for handsome awards offered by the fair association.

INTERESTING READING FOR MOTHERS.

Mothers do not always have time to browse among magazines or book shelves, so here are a few suggestions for busy ones whose leisure for reading is limited. All of the following reading matter can be found in the Sierra Madre library:

Magazine Articles

September "Century," "The Future of the Family," Florence Finch Kelly.

September "Scribner's," "Train Up a Child," Harlan C. Hines.

September "Country Gentleman," "A New Day in Rural Schools."

October's "Modern Miscellany," "Betty's Budget," "Motherhood Circle," "New Conveniences Recently Approved," "Menus for October."

September "Good Housekeeping," "Foods on Parade," "The Institute Forum," p. 98; "Ten Dollars Transforms a Room," p. 106.

September 18, Colliers, "Make Them Earn Their Way Out," "Prison America's Joke," Compares the prisoners' lives with those of their families at home.

October Delineator, "Before the Baby Comes," Joseph B. De Lee. September "Pictorial Review," "The First Lady of the Land," An interesting study of Mrs. Calvin Coolidge.

August "American," "I Won't Be a Hindrance to My Child," Chester T. Crowell. How one man and woman are trying to help their children to find themselves.

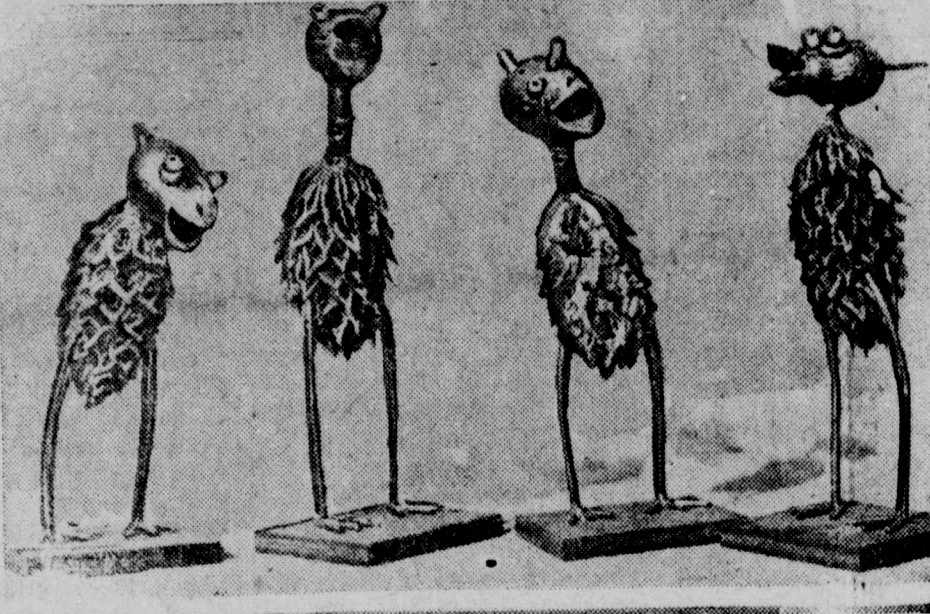

September "American," "How Much of Your Brain Do You Use?" Geo. A. Dorsey. "All of Us Mothers," Fannie Kilbourne. Old maids sometimes are real mothers.

October American, "How Smart Are Your Children?" Albert Edward Wiggam. An article on intelligence and achievement tests. "Popular Mechanics." Any number contains a wealth of information interesting to your boy and possibly to you.

"American." Any number has good inspirational reading matter. The march number, selected at random, contains: "Give Your Child a Set of Good Habits," by Angelo Patri, an educational leader for over twenty years; "The Kind of Parents Our Big Business Men Had;" "Boys, Then and Now," Wm. Allen White; "The Six Fundamentals of Happiness," Wm. S. Sadler, M. D.

September "Woman's Home Companion," "One Medium-Sized Dog," by Grace Torrey. How do you feel about your child's dog? "America," the first of an interesting series of chapters by Henrik Van Loon. "Balance on Hand," The business side of married life. Children's magazines on the children's table will show you what is available in that line. Subscribe for one if possible.

Books

"Her Son's Wife," by Dorothy Canfield Fisher. Also appeared in "Woman's Home Companion." Tells of one woman's sacrifices for her son's child.

"The Home Maker," Dorothy Canfield Fisher. A woman disliked housekeeping. Her husband was a misfit in business. His injury brought about an interesting situation.

"Gertrude Haviland's Divorce," Inez Hayes Irwin. Also appeared in American Magazine, May to November, 1925, under the title, "Discarded."

Gertrude Haviland's grief and bitterness over being discarded almost blinded her to the fact that her children were getting away from her. If you overheard someone call you "fat and uninteresting" what would you do? Read what Gertrude Haviland did for herself, her children and the community.

Booth Tarkington's stories of young people are wonderfully illuminating. Read his "Seventeen."

A new book on foods and diet by Froude is not too radical. Back numbers of all magazines afford a wealth of material, and the librarian is always very willing to give assistance. Mothers, visit the library with your children and get acquainted with the available reading matter.

Mothers, can you interest the children in gardens so that Sierra Madre can bloom luxuriously the year 'round? The Sierra Madre News in last week's issue had good suggestions and the Saturday issues of Pasadena papers and the Sunday issues of Los Angeles papers keep people posted right along on garden activities. Make the back yards bloom as well as the front yards.

A plan to hold an interesting carnival at Halloween is being formulated by the P.T.A. with a double purpose in view—to raise funds for the year's welfare work and to furnish an outlet for Halloween spirits. So, parents, plan to come and frolic with your children.

The press chairman, in last week's report, unintentionally gave a wrong impression concerning Mrs. Metcalf's announcement of the Campfire Girls' offer. They will not only furnish the material and sew the garments for small girls when the need is made known, but they will also donate the clothes made.

—Press Chairman, P.T.A.
